Hi

I've scanned with some interest the various documents available regarding the legality of Microsoft's business practices.

I hope that Governments at both State and Federal level will act together to insure that those predatory business practices are discontinued.

I especially hope that the Courts do not accept in any way Microsoft's offer of providing free/reduced cost software and PC's to schools as part of any "penalty".

I am given to understand that Apple Computer software runs on a very small amount of computers worldwide, saving only that Apple appears to enjoy some larger success in schools.

In my opinion, allowing Microsoft to "force out" Apple computers from schools by offering different computers will inevitably lead to an even smaller market share for Apple Computer, thereby increasing Microsoft's already overpowering Monopoly power.

Thank you for your time
